You must submit a midyear change form to your agency within 30 days of the date when an individual you provide coverage to is no longer PEBB eligible. Individuals will be removed prospectively from coverage the last day of the month in which the agency receives the midyear change form from the employee. The exception to prospective removal from coverage is when an ex spouse, ex domestic partner or any child becomes ineligible for coverage because of divorce or dissolution of partnership. In this exception, the ineligible individuals will be removed from coverage the last day of the month in which the divorce or dissolution occurred. Late submission may affect your income taxes. In the case of retroactive terminations, you may be responsible for claims paid for the individual during the period of ineligibility. If you do not report changes of eligibility that occur before open enrollment, you may face civil or criminal charges for fraud, and PEBB may rescind coverage.
