

Non Tenure-Track Instructor/Assistant Professor of Psychology

 Applicant POOL **

Recruitment Number: F-PSY

Western Oregon University invites applications for part-time Non-Tenure-Track Instructor/Assistant Professor positions for the Psychology Faculty Applicant POOL. Candidates with a PhD are preferred, but master-level applicants will be given consideration. Candidates with teaching experience will be given priority. Possible courses to be taught include Life-Span Development, General Psychology, and seminars/courses in the applicant's specialty area. The successful candidate will join a robust department of eight tenure-track faculty and several non-tenure-track faculty members. Please visit our website at www.wou.edu/psych.

For information, contact Rob Winningham, Ph.D., 503.838.8344 or winninr@wou.edu. Please direct all application documents to the address noted below.

Note: A WOU application form must be submitted at the beginning of each academic year in order to remain in the Applicant Pool. Applicants may request that the additional items required be attached to the new application form. However, it is highly encouraged that the letter of interest, CV, and reference list are reviewed and updated each year to ensure the most recent information is being reviewed. Contact Human Resources if you have questions.

Western Oregon University (WOU) is a public comprehensive university located in the Monmouth-Independence area, the heart of Oregon's lush Willamette Valley, which serves a large number of Oregon's first-generation college students. WOU is about 20 minutes from Salem, the state's capital, about 75 minutes from Portland, the state's cultural hub, and a short drive from the Oregon coast, mountains, and other scenic areas. The university is located in an increasingly diverse, bilingual, and rural area in the Willamette Valley. Our student body of about 5000 undergraduates and 400 graduates enjoys a vibrant and close-knit intellectual community comparable to the environment in a small liberal arts college.
