RELEASE FORM FOR ACCREDITATION REVIEW
STUDENT WORK

Western Oregon University and the College of Education undergo periodic accreditation reviews by the National Council for Accreditation of Teacher Education (NCATE) and the Oregon Teacher Standards and Practices Commission (TSPC). The next site visit is Fall 2007. As part of the review, we are collecting samples of student work. The purpose of the samples is not to judge individual students, but rather to provide examples of the types of assignments COE students complete. So that faculty may select and exhibit student work as needed for the accreditation teams visiting in Fall 2007, we ask that you complete and return this release form.

While copies of your work are preferred, if it is only possible for you to provide us with your original, we will return the work to you after the site visit. In the meantime, we will store it in as secure an area as possible. We will need your address after the site visit for mailing purposes. If you move between now and November 2007, please send your new address to Connie Wildfang, NCATE Coordinator, College of Education, 503-838-8689 or wildfangc@wou.edu.

I grant permission to Western Oregon University to present my work to the accreditation teams visiting the College of Education in Fall 2007. I understand that only professional educators on the team and in the College of Education will have access to my work. I also understand that WOU will attempt to return the project (if it is an original) to me after the site visit, but this is not guaranteed, since the Exhibit Room in which this work will be located is not secure.
