THE COMMUNITY LOUNGE areas IN ACKERMAN HAVE TREMENDOUS POTENTIAL FOR MEETING YOUR HALLMATES AND PROVIDES A PLACE TO BRING YOUR FRIENDS WHEN THEY VISIT.

Ackerman Hall is a LEED PLATINUM (Leadership in Energy and Environmental Design) certified green building. As such the over-all "theme" of the building is green and residents living here commit to a greener, more sustainable lifestyle. Ackerman also serves as the home to our Live-Learn Communities. Living here allows residents to choose to live with peers who share a similar interest, passion or goal with respect to their academic and/or residential experience. In addition, these Live-Learn communities also provide:

- A community environment with clear educational objectives and mission established.
- Staff, curricular and co-curricular programming and resources that are dedicated to that program only.
- Faculty and/or staff mentors are available as resources within each community.

Each resident (same gender roommates) will live in a community with potentially different gender neighbors. Each wing features 22 rooms with separate designated men's and women's community bathrooms on each floor, as well as one private, gender-neutral bathroom at each end of the community. Study lounges - many with laptop bars - complete these communities.

Ackerman double rooms are approximately 162 square feet, and designated single rooms are approximately 115 square feet (room dimensions may vary). A typical double room has wardrobes with drawers for storage, dressers, and a desk (which includes drawers, a cork-board and a shelf) and chair for each resident (see image below right). Beds are extra-long twin (mattresses are 80" long) and are stackable. Furniture can be moved within the room to suit each resident.

Barnum & Ackerman Details

The rooms and suites at WOU are all set up to accommodate roommates of the same gender, but keep in mind the following:

- Students placed in Barnum may have students of the opposite gender living in a suite next to theirs (each suite has it's own bathroom).
- Ackerman Hall is an entirely co-ed hall set up with mixed gender floors (same gender roommates). There are separate men's and women's community restrooms on each floor, and a limited number of private, gender neutral bathrooms available as well.
- Ackerman Hall houses both upper class and first-year students within its' themed communities.
