

Be Still

*Be still and know that You are God.
Sit here, and feel the mercy of Your love,
And know, I'll spend forever with you so,
Why do I worry about all the things
You already know?*

*This world sits on very shaky ground.
In this life, you're the one I can't do without.
I depend on knowing that You're near,
So why do I doubt even though I know You are sincere?*

*Time will never make You change
You will always be the same
And when I can't find where You are
You always lead me back to You.*

*Night falls but it doesn't seem so black,
And now I know nothing else can hold me back
From You, cuz it was You Yourself who said,
"Never will I leave You."*

*Time will never make You change,
You will always be the same
And when I can't find where You are
You'll always lead me back to You.*

Back to You.
