- Commenters

Individuals who wish to present comments at one of the public meetings must reserve time on the agenda for that meeting by contacting the individual identified below (under Reservation and Additional Meeting Information). Reservations for presenting comments will be accepted on a first-come, first-served basis. Given the expected number of individuals interested in providing comments at the meetings, reservations for presenting comments should be made as soon as possible.

Approximately five to seven minutes will be allotted to each commenter, depending upon the number of individuals who reserve time on the agenda. At the meeting, presenters are encouraged to submit to RSA two written copies of their comments.

In order to ensure that all comments are given maximum consideration during the development of the Department's reauthorization proposals, individuals should present their comments by: (1) Identifying the issue(s) (and, if applicable, portions of the Act) to which their comments pertain; (2) Clearly describing any proposed improvements to the Act; (3) Providing a concise rationale supporting each proposed change. We also ask that commenters indicate which portions of the current Act they find to be particularly effective.

- Reservation and Additional Meeting Information

All individuals attending the public meetings, including those presenting comments, must make reservations by contacting the appropriate individual identified below. In addition, all individuals attending the public meetings should be prepared to show photo identification at the meeting location for security purposes.

The meeting rooms and proceedings will be accessible for individuals with disabilities. In addition, when making reservations, anyone attending a meeting, including those presenting comments, who needs special accommodations such as sign language interpreters, Braille materials, and communication access real-time transcription should inform the individual identified below of their specific accessibility needs. Requests for accommodations must be made at least 10 working days prior to the scheduled meeting date. For individuals who need to use the Federal Information Relay Service (FIRS), the telephone number is 800-877-8339 and the customer service number is 800-877-0996.

Written Comments

In addition to soliciting input through public meetings, RSA invites the submission of written comments on the reauthorization of the Act by June 30, 2002 to ensure that they are given full consideration by the Department in formulating its reauthorization proposals. All written comments concerning the reauthorization of the Act should be addressed to Joanne Wilson, Commissioner of the Rehabilitation Services Administration, United States Department of Education and submitted by one of the following methods:

- Internet

We encourage the submission of comments through the Internet at the following address: rehab.reauth@ed.gov.

- Mail

Comments can also be submitted via mail to: Rehabilitation Services Administration, United States Department of Education, 330 "C" Street, S.W., Room 3028, Mary E. Switzer Building, Washington, D.C. 20202-2531.

- Facsimile

Comments may also be submitted by facsimile at (202) 205-9874.

As with comments provided during the public meetings, written comments submitted to RSA should: (1) Identify the issue(s) (and, if applicable, portions of the Act) to which their comments pertain; (2) Clearly describe any proposed improvements to the Act; and (3) Provide a concise rationale supporting each proposed change. In addition, we ask that commenters indicate which portions of the current Act they find to be particularly effective. We also ask that you submit your comments only once using one of the three methods described above so that we do not receive duplicate copies of the same comments.

Further Information

Individuals seeking additional information should contact Beverlee Stafford, United States Department of Education, Rehabilitation Services Administration, 330 "C" Street, S.W., Room 3014, Mary E. Switzer Building, Washington, D.C. 20202-2550. Internet address "Beverlee.Stafford@ed.gov". Telephone (202) 205-8831. Individuals who use a TTY may call (202) 205-5538.

Availability of Copies of the Act

An electronic copy of the Act is available on the RSA website at <http://www.ed.gov/offices/OSERS/RSA/Policy/Legislation/rehabact.doc>.

We encourage individuals who need copies of the Act to obtain copies via the Internet. However, for those individuals who are unable to access the Internet and are attending one of the public meetings, copies of the Act are available by contacting the appropriate individual identified above (under Reservation and Additional Meeting Information). Other individuals who are unable to access the Internet can obtain a copy of the Act by calling (202) 205-8299.
