

Friends of the Jensen Arctic Museum and Western Oregon University present:

Why the Arctic matters

January 28, 29 and 30, 2010

Western Oregon University, Werner
University Center, Columbia Room

Free to the public!

.....a community symposium.....

Register by Jan. 15 and receive a complimentary pass to the opening reception: 503-838-8725.

Thursday 1/28:

Understanding the Arctic

9 am • Laurence Padman, Ph.D., senior scientist, Earth and Space Research

10 am • Brad Griffith, Ph.D., wildlife biologist, U.S. Geological Survey

11 am • William Hensley, Inupiaq author, Alaskan Native activist

2 pm • Carol Zane Jolles, Ph.D., professor of anthropology, University of Washington

3 pm • Robert McGhee, Ph.D., archeologist, Canadian Museum of Civilization

7 pm • Qallunaat: Why White People are Funny (film)

Friday 1/29: Doing our part

9 am • Adele Schepige, Ph.D., WOU professor of science education, NASA Explorer Grant

10 am • William Schoenfeld, Ph.D., WOU associate professor of physics, NASA Explorer Grant

11 am • Greg Craven, author, teacher

2 pm • Mary Pettenger, Ph.D., WOU associate professor of political science

3 pm • Our Environment: A panel discussion

7 pm • Before Tomorrow (film)

Sat. 1/30: Celebrating arctic arts

Get the full schedule of events at:
www.wou.edu/arctic

