Services for Student Success

WOU offers many services to students to help ensure academic success. WOU students pay for these services in their tuition and fees, so there is generally no additional fee for using the services. Students are encouraged to take full advantage of all these services.

Academic Advising & Learning Center (Tutoring) (Academic Programs and Support Center, Room 401, 503-838-8428)

See an adviser in the Academic Advising Office (or your faculty adviser) for information about LACC requirements, course selection and help in making wise and responsible academic decisions. The Learning Center provides academic tutoring and also helps students acquire and maintain the skills necessary to become successful college students.

Office of Disability Services (Academic Programs and Support Center, Room 405, 503-838-8250)

This office arranges appropriate accommodations for students with documented disabilities including learning disabilities. Typical accommodations include notetakers, books on tape, extended testing time and sign language interpreters.

Student Enrichment Program (SEP) (Academic Programs and Support Center, Room 201, 503-838-8550)

If you are currently a participant in this federal program, SEP can assist you in overcoming academic, personal, financial, social and cultural barriers by offering support services. If you are not a participant, you can contact their office to see if you meet the criteria to participate.

Writing Center (Academic Programs and Support Center, Room 301, 503-838-8286)

This area helps writers at all stages of writing a paper, from getting started to fine-tuning a conclusion. Writing tutors can clarify punctuation rules, discuss paragraph development or suggest different ways of organizing a paper. The Writing Center also provides handouts and coaching on citing sources in your paper and in your bibliography.

Multicultural Student Services and Programs (Academic Programs and Support Center, Room 501, 503-838-8737)

This office provides advising and support, assists with academic advisement, and connects students to resources on and off campus.

Student Health and Counseling Center (503-838-8313)

All regularly enrolled students who register for 9 or more credit hours fall, winter or spring term are eligible to receive free general health assessments from a health care provider and/or health educator consultations at the Student Health Center. The Counseling Center offers a variety of individual and group counseling services for stress management, skills for improving relationships and assistance in dealing with crisis, personal loss or depression.

Service Learning and Career Development (Werner University Center, Room 119, 503-838-8432)

This office provides a comprehensive approach to career preparation, professional development and service to the community through relevant experiential and educational opportunities. They provide resources to help students select career options and/or an academic major.

Non-traditional Student Services (Werner University Center, Student Leadership & Activities Office, 503-838-8261)

This office provides services and advisement for students 25 years of age or older, students with children or students returning after a break from school.

Registrar's Office (Administration Building, Room 104, 503-838-8327)

This office provides services related to your registration, grade records and degree programs.

Financial Aid Office (Administration Building, Room 310, 503-838-8475)

Contact this office if you have questions or concerns about your financial aid eligibility. Counselors are available to help you with the financial aid application process.
