FINANCIAL COMMITMENT: Specific apartment and room assignments will be made and based upon priority date (original date of housing application). These room and apartment assignments are legally binding and are subject to a $350.00 financial commitment fee. The financial commitment fee will only be applied to student accounts in the event that the student chooses to cancel their reservation while attending classes at Western Oregon University the following academic year. The University reserves the right to make reassignments at any time based on the administrative needs of the residential program.

If you choose to live within a Gender Inclusive apartment, you agree to the following:

- Each apartment where the residents agree to participate will then be open to placement of any individual without regard for gender.
- At any time there is a vacancy within the Gender Inclusive apartment, residents agree that any individual may be placed within their environment.
- Residents within a Gender Inclusive apartment will determine sharing and use of bathrooms within that unit.

I would like to live and participate in the Gender Inclusive community. I understand and accept the parameters for this community as set out in this document, including the financial commitment.
