Earth System Science II Lab Manual by the Western Oregon University Earth Science Program Instructors, 2011—buy a new copy from the WOU bookstore: cost ~$8.00

In addition, you are expected to check the class moodle* as a resource for this class. The instructor will post lecture slides, answers to in-class activities and review questions, midterm keys, study guides etc. for your use. The instructor will try to keep the gradebook in the class moodle up to date.

Grading:

Your grade will be based on exams, review questions, in-class activities and worksheets, and your lab score. Below is an itemized list of the weight of each component of your grade.

Assessments	Value
In-Class Activities/Moodle Quiz	30 Points
Homework Assignments	65 Points
Mid Term Exam—January 24/25	40 Points
Mid Term Exam—Feb 16/17	40 Points
Final Exam—March 17 or 18	125 Points
Laboratory Grade [†]	100 points
Total	400 Points

[†]Laboratory Grade will be reported by your lab instructor. Your laboratory grade will be included as 25% of your lecture grade. A passing grade in lab (at least 60%) must be obtained to receive credit in ES 105.

Letter Grade[‡]	Percent	Points
A	(100-90%)	400-360
B	(89-80%)	359-320
C	(79-70%)	319-280
D	(69-60%)	279-240
F	(0-60%)	239-000

[‡] Plus and Minus Grades may be given at discretion of instructor

* Moodle: modular object oriented dynamic learning environment: <http://online.wou.edu>

There will be daily in-class activities that count toward your grade. The in-class activities can also be done in the 'moodle'[†] <http://online.wou.edu> as quizzes, if you cannot attend class. These need to be completed within one week of missing class. You may do the same quizzes as in-class activities, but they will not count as extra credit. These are worth 2 points each, so you need 15 non-identical in-class activities or moodle quizzes for a total of 30 points toward your lecture grade.

There will be five homework assignments during this term. They will be worth a total of 65 points toward your final grade. These will be handed out in class, with the due date indicated on the sheet, and available online on the instructor's web page and in the class moodle. These need to be turned in on time or they will not receive full credit. Late assignments receive a fraction of the points achieved: score divided by the number of class meetings it is late.

There are three exams for this class. Bring a scantron form and a calculator, and expect to also complete problems similar to in-class activities and homework questions. The midterm exams are scheduled for January 19/20 and February 16/17, 2011. The final is listed in the Registrar's schedule. For the M/W class, it will be at 8 AM on Friday March 18; for the Tu/Th class, it will be at noon on Thursday March 17. Early final exams are allowed only with special permission.

If you know ahead of time that you will not be in class for an exam, contact the instructor ahead of time to make an arrangement for you to take it at another time. If you miss an exam without prior notice, please have some written evidence of your emergency situation to show to the instructor, or use the proper University channels to communicate (Office of Student Affairs: 503-838-8423). Your instructor is understanding, but needs verification of each case.

Incomplete status: You may have personal circumstances that do not allow you to finish this class on time. You may request an 'incomplete' in this situation. You must have completed the midterm exams, and be passing at the time of your request. You must sign agreement with the instructor about when and how you will complete this course. Or you may go through the Office of Student Affairs (503-838-8423) to verify your situation. Student will sign a plan of completion for the instructor before the incomplete is granted. Friday February 12 is drop deadline for winter 2010 term. Use this option if you are failing the class. See page 20 of the 2010-11 catalog for more information.

Labs begin week 2 of the winter term. Your lab instructor will provide you with information about your lab schedule.

A tentative lecture schedule follows. The review questions listed are suggested to improve your understanding of the material, but are not assigned for your grade.

Institutional aspirations for learning

Students at WOU will be challenged to achieve their highest potential through a rigorous and stimulating curriculum. Between 2004 and 2005, a set of educational goals called Institutional Aspirations for Learning were collaboratively developed by our faculty after focused discussions about the fundamental aims of liberal education in the 21st century. These aspirations constitute the core competencies, skills, experiences and values credited to, and expected of, WOU's educational process and its graduates. We believe that these aspirations are the basic building blocks of a high-quality education as well as the foundations for productive careers, life long development and informed citizenship on a local, national and global level.

1. Students will develop more refined critical thinking skills, including advanced analytical, logical and quantitative reasoning abilities as well as excellent problem-solving skills.
2. Students will develop effective communicative abilities, including listening, observing, speaking, writing and dialoguing.
3. Students will become active readers with an enhanced ability to carefully, closely and thoughtfully read a range of texts.
4. Students will acquire field or discipline specific knowledge and they will understand disciplinary modes of intellectual inquiry.
5. Students will develop an interdisciplinary and integrative perspective as they recognize, explore, appreciate and engage the interconnections between disciplines.
6. Students will develop advanced research abilities and they will demonstrate improvements in their information and media literacy.
7. Students will learn how to use appropriate technologies.
8. Students will acquire and demonstrate competencies, skills, attributes and values necessary for successful participation in a diverse, pluralistic and increasingly interdependent world.
9. Students will be able to work effectively in teams.
10. Students will strive to be well-balanced persons capable of making thoughtful and healthy choices.
11. Students will be able to apply theory in relevant, appropriate and reflective ways. (p. 5)

Academic Advising and Learning Center

Director Karen Sullivan-Vance

Academic Advising Center

Academic advising at WOU is a developmental process designed to help students define their life and career values and goals in relation to their academic plan. Both the student and adviser have a shared responsibility in the ongoing dialogue that helps students maximize their educational experience at WOU. All undergraduate students are required to meet with their academic adviser at least once a term until a degree plan is filed with the Registrar's Office. Students are encouraged to meet with their adviser when they have questions about their educational goals. Students have access to faculty advisers in their major and minor areas of study. In addition, the Academic Advising and Learning Center's professional advisers can advise students about requirements, along with pre-education and undecided students.

The Academic Advising and Learning Center works with:

- Students to identify their life and career goals in relation to possible academic programs
- Undecided students who are exploring different majors
- Students transferring into WOU from another institution
- Students on academic warning, probation or suspension
- Academic requirements for graduation, including the Liberal Arts Core Curriculum (LACC)

For more information, call 503-838-8428 V/TTY, e-mail advising@wou.edu or go to the Web page www.wou.edu/advising.

Learning Center

Academic skills, including study skills and time management, are essential for college success. Services at the Learning Center include:

- Peer tutoring in most academic subjects by appointment
- Drop-in math tutoring hours
- Tutor-assisted study groups
- Individual study skills assessment and assistance (time management, test taking, note taking, listening, textbook reading, etc.)
- Student computer lab

Tutoring assistance is offered in most academic subjects by peer tutors who have been recommended by faculty. The tutor's goal is to help students improve their knowledge and develop better study habits. Students must be currently enrolled in the requested class at WOU for tutoring.

For more information, call 503-838-8501, (503-838-8428 TTY), or go to the web page www.wou.edu/learning. (p. 35)
